new case

ICO consultation on the draft right of access guidance

Q1	Does the draft guidance cover the relevant issues about the right of access?
	○ No
	O Unsure / don't know
	If no or unsure/don't know, what other issues would you like to be covered in it?

Q2	Does the draft guidance contain the right level of detail?
	○ No
	O Unsure / don't know
	If no or unsure/don't know, in what areas should there be more detail within the draft guidance?

Does the draft guidance contain enough examples?
○ Yes
O Unsure / don't know
If no or unsure/don't know, please provide any examples that think should be included in the draft guidance.
There is now some case law covering topics such as when a request may be considered disproportionate, and how to treat requests where the motive of the request is to obtain information for litigation. I don't believe these are covered in the guidance and would have been useful to include.

We have found that data protection professionals often struggle with applying and defining 'manifestly unfounded or excessive' subject access requests. We would like to include a wide range of examples from a variety of sectors to help you. Please provide some examples of manifestly unfounded and excessive requests below (if applicable).

Yes, this would be a good idea. An example could include a mass request submitted at the same time by a trade union on behalf of its members
